Jet Reports and timeXtender announced today a partnership that will combine Jet Reports' powerful Excel reporting solution with timeXtender's elegant warehouse and cube technology.

Jet Reports, a leader in Excel reporting for ten years with over 50,000 users world-wide, now adds Business Intelligence and server-based reporting capabilities to their offering with the release of Jet Reports Enterprise edition in Q1 2011.

Joe Little, President of Jet Reports, commented, "With Jet Reports proven user interface that is packed with friendly productivity tools and timeXtender's 'no need for massive coding' data management offering, we can go-to-market with a truly scalable, powerful and easy to use solution that our customers will never outgrow."

"The partnership allows us to extend the reach of the timeXtender technology to the benefit of Jet Reports' extensive worldwide customer base. At the same time it means that we can focus our energy on the BI needs of the middle and enterprise market," said Heine Krog Iversen, timeXtender CEO.
