timeXtender Signs Levtech Consulting as New Partner in the Middle East

timeXtender, the leading provider of Business Intelligence tools, today announced a new partnership with Levtech Consulting, a Dubai based company and a leading implementer of Microsoft Dynamics solutions.

"We are very pleased to partner with Levtech. The demand for our data warehouse and cube tool has been on the rise, and we are in a phase of global expansion. The Middle East is an important part of that and it is therefore vital that we have a partner that can make BI solutions based on timeXtender available to Middle Eastern clients," said Lars Vestergaard, timeXtender Executive Vice-President of Sales.

"The unique BI technology from timeXtender will enable us to rapidly implement and deliver scalable Business Intelligence solutions to our clients," said Anilesh Kumar, Director of Business Development at Levtech Consulting. "With our market expertise, we are well positioned to ensure the availability of timeXtender-based BI to the Middle East."

timeXtender is a data warehousing and data cube tool that through its unique point and click approach cuts implementation and maintenance time of BI solutions with up to 80%. timeXtender allows non-technical users to quickly and easily start working with their BI solution once it has been implemented.
